

Supporting excellence in Global Life Sciences

February 2021

Bank of Ireland Corporate Banking is delighted to support Schivo in its acquisition of Supreme Screw Products Inc.

Based in Co. Waterford, Schivo is an OEM Contract Manufacturing partner with over 25 years' experience in the manufacturing and development of complex components, sub-assemblies and instruments for global leaders in the Life Sciences space.

Supreme Screw Products Inc. ("SSP") established in 1963 and based in Plainview, New York, is a leading supplier of precision machining, laser processing and assembly services for the medical device market. The acquisition of SSP will strengthen Schivo's development and manufacturing footprint, complement its existing capabilities for minimally invasive surgery and enable the Group to serve their customers' needs both globally and locally.

Commenting on the transaction Ken Brady, Director, Bank of Ireland Corporate Banking said "We are delighted to welcome Schivo as a new client and support their next phase of growth. We look forward to strengthening our relationship with the company and wish them continued success in the future".

"Graham Reeves, CEO of Schivo said "I'd like to thank the team at Bank of Ireland for being so responsive and supportive throughout the transaction and we look forward to working with them as we continue to grow our business".

At Bank of Ireland Corporate Banking, building relationships with our customers is at the core of how we do business. Our dedicated New Business team take the time to get to know your company, your management team and your unique strategy. See how we can support your business to succeed, exceed and thrive.
